How it's different...

1

Find and recruit students you want

Unlike other lead generation sites, Colleges are able to search for students they are interested in recruiting. Colleges can also contact students directly via email about their interest in discussing admission and scholarship opportunities the student may qualify for.

2

No limit on searches and downloads

There are over 100 possible data points provided on each student to help colleges with their selection decision. Colleges are able to download information into an excel file so they can easily sort the data and upload relevant information into their school's CRM system.

3

Meet up with prospective students at our fairs

No other on-line lead generation service is affiliated with a college fair system in over 25 major cities. This enables recruiters to meet face-to-face with prospective students in a fair environment.

How it works for colleges...

1

Register

Colleges must have non-profit status, agree to waive application fees and are accredited by an approved U.S. Department of Education accrediting agency.

2

Complete registration

Once approved, colleges are able to assign a custom password and contact email address for all college staff to use, complete the registration process and access the college's dashboard to begin student searches.

Search database & contact students directly

Contact students you are interested in recruiting directly about possible admission and scholarship opportunities with the moreCollegeOffers system. Download information into your school's CRM system. No limits on searches and downloads. You can target your search for the specific students you want using over 100 data points on each
